

You are going to create a story about your day in the form of a storybook, comic, or a poster. With all of these different options, you will need to consider your skill level using computers and decide which one will fit your level best. Also, think of which one will be the most fun and showcase your style as an individual. Please see the tutorial videos at www.beyerspanish.weebly.com → Master's Coursework → AMLA 610 → Four: Differentiation.

You will be able to view the rubric at the top of the page as well as a tutorial for each of your options.

Rough Draft Due: _____

Corrected by: _____

Rubric:

	Excelente (4)	Muy Bien (3)	Bien (2)	Necesita más trabajo (1)	No esfuerzo (0)
Content	In addition, you include many extra details and information about your day.	You include 15 different activities and times for a typical day with some extra details and information.	You include 15 different activities and times for a typical day.	You include less than 15 activities and times, and required a lot of guidance.	Not enough to earn a grade.
Vocabulary	A variety of vocabulary is used. Spelling is correct (1).	A variety of vocabulary is used, but there are errors in spelling (2-3).	Correct vocabulary is used, there are errors in spelling (4-5).	Although accurate, there is little variety in vocabulary and many spelling errors. (6+)	Not enough to earn a grade.
Grammar • S/V Agree • N/Adj. Agree • Word Order	Structures sentences very accurately with 0-3 errors in grammar.	Structures sentences accurately with 4-6 errors in grammar.	You show effort in your writing, but had 7-10 errors in grammar.	More effort is needed, but you made it through the assignment. You had 10+ errors.	Not enough to earn a grade.
Photos	You have photos matching each hour of your day.	You have photos matching most hours of your day.	You have photos matching some hours of your day.	You have photos matching few hours of your day.	Not enough to earn a grade.
Conventions	Correctly used capital letter, periods, and commas.	x	x	x	Not enough to earn a grade.